

MOUNTAIN SENTINEL.

EBENSBURG, PA.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1849.

The Sentinel, has much the largest circulation of any paper published in this county—and as an advertising sheet offers superior inducements to merchants and business men generally. Those desirous of making use of this medium for extending their business can do so by either sending their notices direct, or through the following agents: John Crouse, Esq., Johnstown. E. W. Carr, Evans' Buildings, Third st. Philadelphia.

Our friends Evans & Hughes are about receiving a choice assortment of Clothing at their Store in this place. Those wishing to prepare for winter may do well to give them a call. See their advertisement.

The next House of Representatives will stand 59 democrats, and 41 whigs—leaving a majority of nineteen, sufficient for all practical purposes.

William Deal, the new Democratic Sheriff of Philadelphia, has appointed Thomas D. Smith, Esq., brother of Dr. Smith of this place his deputy. This is said to be a far off.

Another War Threatened.

It will be seen by reference to the foreign news in to-day's paper that there is a probability of a war between Russia and Turkey. The Russian Envoy has retired in high dudgeon from Constantinople, because the Sultan refuses to give up the Hungarian refugees who have sought protection in his dominions.—Both England and France have taken sides with Turkey, and will sustain her in the course she has adopted. If war be the consequence the whole of Europe will probably be involved in it, then there will be a grand struggle between Civilization on the one, hand and Despotism on the other. The decision of the Russian Emperor is anxiously awaited.

The next Speaker of the House.

The democracy of Pittsburg and Allegheny county, have presented Dr. J. R. McClellan, as a candidate for Speaker of the next House of Representatives. The Doctor is represented as being a gentleman of very considerable abilities, and well qualified for the office. His triumphant election in such a hot bed of whiggery as Allegheny county, certainly speaks volumes in his favor and it would be nothing more than paying a deserved compliment to the sterling democracy of that county, for their gallant conduct at the late election, to give them the choice of Speaker.

Coming to the United States.

A letter in the New York Tribune says that Kossuth, Bem and Dembinski may be expected in New York about the middle of November, unless war should break out between Russia and Turkey, when they will renew the Hungarian conflict. If they come, they will undoubtedly meet with a warm reception. The United States is proud of being considered the home of the oppressed and down trodden people of Europe, and of being able to guaranty to them that freedom for which they fought in vain in their own country.

Going it Strong.

In Clover township, Jefferson county, Gamble had seventy votes, and Fuller not one!—This is going in for the support of a man with a vengeance and can't be beat in the State.

The gallant Dr. Thomas C. Bunting has been elected Register of Wills in Philadelphia by a handsome majority. This result is highly gratifying to his numerous friends, and must be regarded as a high compliment paid to a man every way worthy of it. He is a good democrat, a perfect gentleman, and will make a most efficient officer.

Mr. Gamble.

The Jersey Shore Republican, published at the home of Mr. Gamble, has the following remarks in reference to the course that will be pursued by that gentleman as a member of the Board of Canal Commissioners. They come up to our views exactly, and as the editor appears to speak by authority we give place to them.

"We hail the election of Mr. GAMBLE as worthy the People of Pennsylvania; we regard it as an evidence of the intelligence and honesty of the people, as an attestation that merit receives its reward, and finally the very election in which the people may have occasion greatly to rejoice. Mr. Gamble may well feel proud of the majority he has received in the State, and the good people of this Commonwealth may feel equally so, that they have succeeded in securing his services. As we remarked some time since, he will bring to the discharge of the duties of the office, a thorough practical knowledge of the various works of public improvement throughout the State, a vigorous mind and habits of industry, devoted to a conscientious discharge of the important and responsible duties of the station. He has no branch of the party to serve, none to oppose, he looks upon himself as elected by the whole democratic party. Mr. Gamble is a firm, consistent democrat, and goes in for keeping up a strict party organization—and we assure our friend HARPER of the Pittsburg Post, that no Guerrilla democrat will receive any encouragement from him in the way of office. Our friends may rely upon it, that in Mr. G., they have the right kind of material for a good and faithful officer.

The Result.

We thought we would have been enabled to present our readers with the official vote for Canal Commissioner at the late election, but we have been disappointed. Below we give the official vote in all the counties with the exception of four—Elk, Green, McKean and Wayne, but the reported majorities for these counties which we also give cannot be far from correct. Our table has been carefully compiled from our exchanges, and can, we think, be relied on as correct. It will be seen that Gamble's majority is between eleven and twelve thousand.

Annexation of Canada.

The annexation of Canada is now one of the leading questions of the day, and it is certainly a very important one. But before the question can be properly brought before the American Congress, a very large, perhaps the larger, portion of the citizens of Canada will have to be brought round in favor of the measure, whose attachment to the mother country is yet too strong for them to look upon a dismemberment from England with favorable eyes. As we learn from our exchanges, the annexation movement did not originate in any strong desire for liberty and the benefit of free institutions. On the contrary, the annexationists appear to be governed more by pecuniary considerations than by any love of American institutions. This spirit, which is not a very good one, will, we think, have but little influence upon those whose attachment is still so strong towards the mother country, and we need not, therefore, expect that propositions of annexation will be presented to our government for some time to come. But this movement may be regarded as merely the "beginning of the end." There can be no doubt that Canada will be finally annexed to the United States.

The annexationists recently issued a long address to the people of Canada, in which very strong arguments were used in favor of the measure. In relation to this address, a correspondent of the New York Evening Post remarks: "By this time you will have received a copy of the address issued by the annexationists, and we hoped to have received to-day the New York papers, to have seen their comments on it, but by some accident the latest journals we have, being those of the 10th. A Troy paper that reached us to-day, speaks well of it.—Here the address has excited feelings the most opposite. The Upper Canada papers, both Tory and Radical, as far as we have yet seen, are perfectly furious, with the exception of two Tory papers published at Kingston, who seem to look on the thing as a matter that can surprise no man, and on annexation as inevitable sooner or later. The Quebec Tory papers, are not violently opposed to it. They seem to think the movement premature, and to tell the truth, this is the opinion of a great number of people here, who are really favorable to annexation, but think that the authors of this address have begun at the wrong end. There is a most passionate attachment to the mother country among the English, Scotch, and Northern Irish, and they think that before any number of persons had determined on attempting separation, they should have made a solemn and final appeal to the mother country. Another large party think that the prosperity of these provinces may be secured by a federal of legislative union of them all, accompanied by a high protective tariff to encourage national industry. The ultra loyalists are circulating a protest against the address, and I am told they have obtained 300 signatures; the address has already been signed by more than 1000 persons.

A new line of stages has been started on this northern route between Lowstown and Pittsburg by Colter, Lophart, Snodgrass & Co. It is said that this line have an understanding with the Central Railroad Company by which passengers will be carried directly through from Pittsburg to Philadelphia.

We see it stated in Bicknell's Counterfeit Detector that Eric money has again "got up." It is now quoted at 1 1/2 per cent. discount in Philadelphia. "Doubtful things are very uncertain."

All Sorts of Paragraphs.

One of the finest eulogies ever pronounced by one Christian on another, was that pronounced by Dr. Doddridge on his beloved and venerated friend Dr. Clark, of St. Albans; he remarked of him that 'he brought joy into every house which he entered, but most of all his own house, when he returned to it.'

A calculation made by Wm. Durby, Esq., the geographer, goes to show that if the National Monument at Washington be elevated to five hundred feet, its apex will be visible at a distance of twenty-seven and a half miles. He asserts that on the same mathematical principles, a height of six hundred feet gives a horizontal radius of vision to about thirty miles.

A Paris correspondent of the Glasgow Daily Mail says 'The Venetian people, after all their sufferings, raised one million of francs in one day for the emigrating patriots. The names of Venice and Rome, in 1849, will raise to glory beside the post of infamy on which will be written the France and Austria of 1849.'

Canada is coming. Cuba is preparing to come. Mexico is ripe for annexation. And the whig doctrine of no more territory will soon be an obsolete idea.
